Entertainment Extra by Evelyn

Q. Whatever happened to Victoria principal from one of the hit "Dallas" she has kept a very low profile to me having married producer? Susan B.

A. Victoria is married to the producer of the Principal has been mostly from time as a television movie producer with not very company in film. Victoria has appeared in four films over the past four and is currently working on another film starring to a likely movie plans. appear has been a the front office of the comedy academy class of 1990.

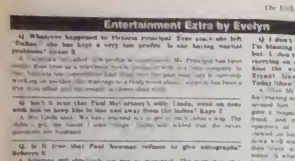
Q. Isn't it true that Paul McCartney's wife, Linda, went on tour with him to keep him in line and away from the ladies? Barry T.

A. Mrs. Linda went. We have received a lot of letters about this... get the answer I have things mixed but she added that she never questioned her husband.

Q. Is it true that Paul Newman refuses to give autographs? Roberta B.

A. Newman will occasionally not give or monograph. The story goes that someone dropped signed the bus to the day one asked him for his signature while he was standing at a urinal.

Q. Is it true that Charlie Sheen is going to get married? Yvonne V.



A. As of this writing, never anything - or change overnight so likely sweet the handsome actor is going to marry actress Kelly Preston in April 21.

Q. Who exactly is taking care of the late Charlotina Onassis daughter, Athena? Joy L.

A. Athena is living with her dad, Thierry Roussel and his girlfriend, Fabe Landhage. Thierry and Lully are soon to be wed.

Q. I loved the actor who played the second Duke on "General Hospital." Could you please tell me his name? That other actor is gone, has he been on, and why did "GH" finish off the Duke storyline so quickly? Sybil B.

A. The actor in question is Greg Beretelli and, yes, he has appeared on two other daytime soapers. Long started on "Linda Light" as Tom Hughes on "The World Turns" as Brock.

Originally, Beretelli was signed on the "General Hospital" soap for a three-month stint. However, the character of Duke, resurrected from the dead with completely new looks from plastic surgery, was suddenly dead after only seven weeks. Beretelli was not angry about his unexpected departure, but he is frustrated that he was not informed sooner. He is disappointed that he could not do more with the character since he was just getting over the shock from Wendy, who's Hollywood, finally realizes she doesn't feel sorry for this talented actor. It's now public knowledge that Beretelli and Wendy should be back on the table very shortly — he certainly has the talent.

Soap Updates by Seli Groves

ALL MY CHILDREN: Donna and Chris were engaged Billy Clyde warned her, but it fell Emily Ann everything serious she gives him the ring when he'll use to make money to leave town. Instead Donna must regard the Chris's returns and loved the $10,000 sent to him. To receive her confused feelings over Jackson and Travis, Erica decided she'd date each one on alternate nights. Nope finally went to the AA meeting and admitted she was an alcoholic. Ted and Dixie fallin. Dixie changed the back to her poor Barbara Jean to go elsewhere. She checked into the Valley Inn claiming Palmer would pay all her bills. Wait To See: Opal's obsession of grandson Jr. grander

ANOTHER WORLD: Jesse was shocked to learn Sharlene spent thousands of dollars on designer clothes. Rachel brought a weakened Ken home despite his and Janice's objections. Nicky realized her recurring nightmare might come true Marley (her twin sister) is in danger. The attorney for Marcy's real parents visited Michael. Iris was furious with Jesse who accused her of being jealous of her friendship with Lucas Wait To See: Iris tells Rachel something important about Mac.

AS THE WORLD TURNS: Lucinda explained to John how she accidentally caused Susan's injury. Larry Wagner told Lucinda Philip Lombard may be Dusty's real father. After hiring Sawyer to go to Montego to find Faith, Duncan learned him also a dangerous Hai and Margo reminded each other they loved them even spouses. John and Kim went out to Alcon meeting to learn he's not just his help family. Dr. Malch even asked Iris out to dinner Wait To See: Bob and Kim realize the guy has been dreaming wrong.

BOLD & THE BEAUTIFUL: Clarke couldn't persuade Margo to leave Bill and marry him. Meanwhile Bill agreed to give up his fight for custody of Mark. Sally accepted Clarke's marital conditions for a month, but Sally need time to come around sexually. Ian is Eric was engaged to someone that Brooke won't use him because of everything's wrong wrong! Stephanie for and Stephanie had problems and Brooke left for Paris, telling Ridge not to tell anyone where pregnant. Wait To See: A troubled Stephanie finds a new problem arising out of an old one.

DALLAS: Sally discovered Jamie's only triumphs could lead to tempting Stephanie. Stephanie had another surprise for Jr. Wait To See: Ewing brings John for some anger fireworks.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES: It all got worst that Kimberly was pregnant. Shane later heard her radio show an more moved and abortion and realized something was wrong. After hearing that Austin was seeing Adrienne, Natalie made a new will, naming Bo as her heir. Faith's recovery from the accident left her unable to see her legs. Sheila grieving more attached to Stephanie every day, and Stephanie didn't told her Kayla might soon be released from jail and made plans to bring the baby. Wait To See: Daughter's "accident" leads to a surprising development.

FALCON CREST: The series will return to CBS on Thursday April 26 (9-10 p.m. with four new episodes to complete the season.

GENERAL HOSPITAL: Duane learned Peter had cut his ties to the WSB. Robin promised Casey she'll get him to Spoon Island where he sensed the presence of another crystal. To teach him about human behavior she brought him into the library and was startled when he asked for a book on sex. Lucy was upset to learn Monica owned the Quartermaine estate and insisted Alan agree to a settlement so she could live there. Anna told Sean Robin made never learn to checkered past as a DEA agent and Tracie. Wait To See: Faison holds the cards and Anna is the prize.

GENERATIONS: Kyle was upset that Jordan shot Eddie in the back, and wondered why betrayed Eddie's whereabouts. Shantal was furious at losing her role when actress Rita told Adam her husband Lorenzo died in an accident. Jordan felt nervous about Jenna's seeing the hit man. Daniel came to see baby Danielle pretending to Marlon that he's an employee agent on a call. Jordan planned to use him as an unwitting courier for something he wants smuggled through U.S. customs. Wait To See: Jordan's plans for us with Sara's expectations leaving little pretty much on the outside looking in.

GUIDING LIGHT: Neil learned from the father of Beth's baby and still Beth and Philip that he'll learn parental rights. After hearing of Bobby's death, Rae hired Rick to come to her knocked him and tied him up, and then turned up at Chelsea's place to tell her the Tate's identity had been discovered. Gary stole a check to Philip's will. Rick said Sam, she must marry Dylan. Wait To See: Rae's "revenge" seems unstoppable.

KNOTS LANDING: Diane revealed preference for Val and Gary by telling Bobby that Gary's his real father. Dale turned down Tom's marriage proposal. Wait To See: Karen's "admirer" makes a strange request.

LOVING: Clay was busy romancing Ava. Able to get information on Tempest. Like her dream, Trisha discovered a mystery room in her father's house. Homeless and feeling unsafe, Lonnie found shelter with another woman in an abandoned car. Later she began waitressing at a restaurant in which Clay suddenly appeared. Rae home from the hospital, warned Lonnie had paid her bills Wait To See: Dave moves into the next phase of his master plan.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE: Max spied on his son Kit's birthday party where Gabrielle made a move on Carl. Sarah thought she saw Austin as she panicked and drove into Scott while Michael and Carla watched. Brenda spotted Michael's car on the side of the road close to a tree. They dumped Scott's body and a bloody glove nearby. Kate learned that a man's body had been found in an empty lot, while Bo and Nora were still unsure if she let anyone or if it was all in her mind. Wait To See: Brenda shows her uneasiness around Michael — and he doesn't take it.

SANTA BARBARA: Derek Hunt, and Stephen had doubts about Ethan's account. Mason and John put Sasha's frozen body into a hospital, respectively. Lisa managed to take Eden to a drug dealer After delivering the drugs to Eden, Lisa's conscience got guilty Lisa not to use any of the "Jet" herself Later Nikki was shocked when Cruz discovered Lisa's plastic-wrapped body. Mason became more suspicious of Laura and he and Julia reached the crypt after getting a tip from the corner. ery a night watchman. Wait To See: Derek Hunt, and Stephen bring Ethan into their plans.

YOUNG & THE RESTLESS: Victor angered Sage when he late to stop Nikki's marriage to Jack Rex was disgusted to see Kay actually Margot drinking with Robert and Sharon and agreed divorce was the only answer. Danny's arrangements about Daryl proved true for Cricket when he threatened to make her a "very ugly woman" if she interfered with his plans for Nina. Adrian planted his stuff locks and money clip on Nathan and used it as an excuse to fire Josh him and Sabrina. Nan began having second thoughts about giving up her baby for adoption. Wait To See: Cassandra's nightmare comes to life.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

WEEKLY TIP: Be true to your self or you might spoil time invested in a spin-off relationship.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The slightest shrinks in work could cause you to tip on up your hands in the management. Someone trying to run your personal affairs. Something you're quite active to do so but don't be bittersweet touch. The friend of friends ranges from happy to troubled.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A problem concerning a relative may be deeper than you expected. Try to look at the bright side Career concerns also plague you. Your home one pisces a partner brighter than it is. Later you'll come up with the true facts. Money could be in some.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Keep super-cautious routines in financial matters. Don't begrudge the fact that there are less funds available than you'd like. Close ties are prone to be extra-special. You're liable to act first and think later. Don't let others put you in a down mood.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Get back on pursuits that has your strength. Those keeping late hours should watch a more moderate routine. A friend seems superficial. Relationship questions pressing you. After an initial enthusiasm, you may get cold feet. Try to unwind on the homefront.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Progress at work is liable to be erratic. After initial gains, you may be stymied by a problem. Family concerns arise. Others may pressure more than they deserve. Don't rush lead to disappointment. You may be nervous about a matter concerning your affections.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You have an unobvious attitude toward responsibilities now. Need a balance between extravagance and penuriousness. Make up your mind. How much are you willing to give and take in a close relationship? That is your concern now. Ponder alternatives carefully.

DEAR DEX

by Dexter Dyer

DEAR DEX:

I'm a 32-year-old woman, and I recently met a man who is 27. I really enjoy his company and believe I've fallen in love with him. He's witty and warm — all around good man. However, the flack I get from my friends and family is outrageous! They think I'm much too attractive because of his money, but they don't realize he's not really that well off. Granted, he's resilient a bit, he's also 87 and should have a nice home and all the other things he has. He's going to be retiring from his dental practice soon. He's asked me to marry him and I really want to, but how can I get my friends and family off my back?

FED UP

DEAR FED UP:

The only reason your friends and family persist in nagging you is because you allow them to. If you put your foot down and tell them to mind their own business, they will have to do just that. Surely at your age you don't have to justify how you live your life to anyone. Just take a stand and be firm about it. There's no need to be overly concerned with what others think.

I wish you every happiness in your future with this man.

DEAR DEX:

What I consider a rather unique problem. My acquaintance — a mine from high school happened to me on my phone a number and is constantly calling me up, acting as if we were the best of friends. Frankly, I didn't care for this guy much back in high school. I certainly don't care to pursue any kind of friendship now. How can I say as much without being downright cruel?

UNCOMFORTABLE

DEAR UNCOMFORTABLE:

I think the best thing to do is just make yourself unavailable when he calls. If you happen to pick up the phone make an excuse and get right off. Eventually he'll get the hint and stop calling.

DEAR DIANE

by Diane Van Arsdale

DEAR DIANE:

I was given up for adoption when I was born and for many years I asked my adoptive parents what my mother was like (if there were any other family) realizing my mother could tell a very short story about how my real parents couldn't afford to keep me. They just never felt I was ready for adoption. I have been married a very nice couple who have been my parents ever since. When they adopted me, they were from another state; so I never knew anything about having any family out there. When my mom asked you'd like to search, I found my birth family, and they were still living in the town I was born in. They have married and have children of their own now, but they had no idea where I went — to whom I was adopted, but I think they could have found me if they were looking hard enough. Anyhow, both my blood mother (my father passed away) in a car accident! My question is, how can I go about contacting them? I don't want to disrupt their lives, and I don't want to be denied by them. I think that would kill me. I just want to know my sisters and brother My parents have been very good to me, and have given me lots of love, but there's something still missing in my life and I believe it's that gap of real roots, and blood family. I'm anxious awaiting your reply

SEARCHING

DEAR SEARCHING:

To be quite honest, it has been my experience over the years that when adopted children look up their birth families, the results are usually traumatic. Granted many people have had wonderful reunions and I've heard from them, too, but for the most part, the appearance of an adopted child on the doorstep of his or her birth family creates a great deal of heartache and upheaval. Of course, it is impossible to predict what will happen. You're just going to have to consider the risks and decide for yourself what is best for everyone concerned. Good luck

Antiques and Collecting

by Ralph & Terry Kovel

WILLIAM TELL BANK ON IT

The figure of William Tell dates back to the 14th century. The famous archer had to split an apple from his son's head with a single arrow to prove his courage against the head of his son. The apple was split and Tell had proved his point. Tell has been a favorite figure in the arts. He appears on coins, in paintings, and in sculpture. Tell the legend was popular.

In the 1840's, Staffordshire pottery manufacturers were making pairs of figurines of William Tell and his son. Pairs of these figures have changed in value and are now worth more than they were when they were made. Some of the pairs were produced in sets. The figures could be sold separately or as a group.

Q. We just purchased an old light fixture for our bedroom. We have lived in an electrified gas area and I'm not familiar with this fixture. The arms are brass with small cut glass globes hanging down on the electric bulb fixture. We don't understand how the flame could be used in a globe that goes down, but up by a flame.

A. A wide number of gas fixtures were made with inverted mantles. The globe was used to shield the flame from drafts. The inverted mantle allows the flame to burn downward. Early mantles were originally made of cotton. Later ones are treated in "knots" and lighting. Until the Welsh Mary patented them in 1890. The knots gives a more brilliant light. It is a good and illustrated with catalog pictures. Many manufacturers made gas fixtures and pictures that were sold with the fixtures. They can help you identify your fixture. Check your local library for books on antiques and gas lighting.

Q. I have an oval picture called "Gold Awake." It shows a child with a bow and arrow. It seems very old.

A. Gold Awake and "Cupid Awake" were popular photographs taken from copyrighted in 1907. The original was taken by M.E. Thickstun. The rights were owned by Tabers Prang Company of Spring field, Mass. The Thickstun Company of Archbold, Ohio made many of the copies of the awaking pictures for many years. Many were sold with the card frames that were made to hold photographs of Cupid. They can be found with the frames and pictures sold in the 1940's. They can be found in many antique shops.

Ralph and Terry Kovel's column, "Kovel's Antiques & Collectibles," appears in Saturday Evening Post every Tuesday.

This Week In History

On April 16, 1860, Abraham Lincoln, Illinois lawyer-turned-politician, made his first campaign speech in Mount Vernon, Ohio. Lincoln was campaigning for Presidential candidate William Henry Harrison. Harrison was running against Democrat Martin Van Buren. Harrison defeated Van Buren in the election.

On April 13, 1861, Fort Sumter in Charleston, S.C., was captured by the Confederates. On April 15, 1865, President Lincoln died from wounds received in the Civil War.

On April 16, 1862, President Lincoln asked for 75,000 volunteers for the Union Army.

On April 14, 1865, Lincoln was assassinated while watching a play at Ford's Theatre in Washington, D.C. John Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln.

On April 14, 1894, Thomas A. Edison's kinetoscope (motion picture machine) made its public showing.

On April 9, 1914, Pancho Villa, Mexican revolutionary leader, and his army of 3,000 men captured Juarez, Mexico.

On April 15, 1920, Tampico, the Atlantic fleet was sent to Vera Cruz and Tuxpan. Mexico to force the government to protect American lives and property.

On April 12, 1945, President Roosevelt died at the age of 63 from a cerebral hemorrhage in Warm Springs, GA.

On April 11, 1947, Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers broke the color barrier in major league baseball.

On April 11, 1951, two Douglas MacArthur was removed from his Korean command for unauthorized policy statements.

On April 12, 1990, at President Carter's request, the U.S. Olympic Committee voted not to attend the Moscow Summer Olympics.

On April 12, 1981, the world's first reusable spacecraft, the Space Shuttle Columbia, began its first space and completed the successful mission.

On April 10, 1984, the Senate adopted a nonbinding resolution condemning U.S. participation in the mining of Nicaraguan harbors.